

STAFF CAPTAIN HERO OF CAMBRAI ATTACK

Kills Captor With Stick and Drives Germans Out of Village.

AVENGES CRIPPLED BABY

Colonel of Royal Horse Mous Lewis Gun to Halt Assaults.

By PERRY ROBINSON.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun from the London Times.

Copyright, 1917, All rights reserved.

English Headquarters, France.

Dec. 10.—A staff captain's first intimation of the progress of the German attack in the Cambrai sector was when he was taken prisoner in a yard to the rear of his headquarters. He killed his captor with a walking stick, and with a small party of signallers, runners and orderlies—anybody he could lay hands on—organized a force and hunted the enemy out of the village. Then he made a hasty defensive position on its outskirts.

There still was one machine gun firing from the village. The officer started with a party of six to tackle the gun. Five of his men were killed. With one left he rushed the gun and with his two revolvers killed the crew of eight. The one man who had been left with him was killed and he remained alone in possession of the gun. The captain's baby was crying in the German air raid on England, and to-day he said that he felt avenged.

The captain gathered a few more men, got the gun in a favorable position, turned it on the enemy and checked the waves which came to recapture the village. Then it was found he was wounded badly, but although he had saved the local situation.

Blinded Colonel Leads Men.

A colonel posted between Marconing and Mamein, the French, the most reckless man in the right eye. Not only did he carry on through the awful day but all during the night and day he insisted on making rounds and, though blind, he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

One more regiment has earned its right to the name of "Die Harde." There was a Colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, a Frenchman, who was blind, and he led his men by an orderly. So he went, thinking to the men he could not see, and he was not alone.

RUMANIANS FORCED TO SIGN ARMISTICE

Armies in Critical Condition by Withdrawal of Russians.

ARMORED TRAIN TO HOLD BACK REBELS

Continued from First Page.

attempts at mediation with the leaders of the revolt.

4. Threatening the most severe punishment for any assistance given the rebels by the population of railway employees.

5. Outlawing leaders of the conspiracy.

Promising fraternal support to every Comrade laborer to cast off the yoke of the Khedins, the Kornilovs and the Duflos.

According to the French Ambassador to Russia, according to the Petrograd correspondent of the Times has issued a declaration which includes a statement of willingness to discuss war aims and peace terms with the Russian Government as soon as it is established and recognized. It is added that the declaration is addressed to one made by St. George, the British Ambassador.

The latter, in an interview with Russian journalists, declared that he had a dispatch from Petrograd, assured them of British sympathy for the Russian people and denied absolutely the reports that the Bolsheviks had been ordered to make by St. George, the British Ambassador.

The decree of the Bolshevik Government, directed at the Petrograd Municipal Council has argued strong opposition on the part of the Social Revolutionary members of the central executive committee, who are in the hands of the Bolsheviks, who characterized the act as unauthorized and illegal. A resolution declaring the decree void was carried by a bare majority.

Bolshevik Rally Supporters.

The Bolshevik rallied their supporters, demanded a roll call and defeated the resolution by a small majority. At the same time, the Bolsheviks were members the new elections were postponed one day.

Fears that the Bolsheviks will dissolve the Constituent Assembly, if they are opposed therein by a majority are expressed in manifestos issued by various non-Bolshevik Socialist bodies.

The central election committee for the Constituent Assembly, which includes Minimalists and Constitutional Democrats has been arrested by the Bolshevik Red Guard. The members were taken to the Smolny Institute, the headquarters of the Bolsheviks, where they protested against their arrest.

Returns from the elections in Moscow show that the Bolsheviks, four Constitutional Democrats and one Social Revolutionary were elected to the Constituent Assembly. Scattering returns from the provinces indicate that the Bolsheviks will have the largest vote of any single faction, probably equalling that of all the others combined. The garbians were largely for the Bolsheviks, the Social Revolutionaries, the Constitutional Democrats and the Constitutional Democrats the towns.

The Petrograd banks have decided to issue notes aggregating $50,000,000 to relieve the financial situation.

Former Premier Kerensky, in a communication addressed to the provisional Government, announces that though he has resigned as Premier he still considers himself a member of the Cabinet.

This Russian Government wireless yesterday transmitted a proclamation signed by M. Kozlovskiy, "Peoples Commissary for Agriculture," declaring all lands, whether private or public, and the produce of the lands heretofore shall be national property under the control of the landowners. "Under this proclamation private property in land is declared abolished, and the houses of the landowners shall be used for schools, hospitals, shelters and theatres."

RAINBOW DIVISION HASN'T ANY YELLOW

Poem Telling All About It Read to Ohioans.

At a meeting of the Ohio Society in the Waldorf-Astoria last night it was announced the annual banquet, January 12, would be a patriotic event for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Former Senator Theodore C. Burton of Ohio, who recently came to New York to speak on "The Real Menace of Germany."

One of the features of the evening was the reading of a poem in the Ohio Rainbow Review, a special organ of the Sixteenth Infantry, whose print shop is "somewhere" in France. The multipage poem, which the paper is printed was donated by the Ohio Rainbow, and a copy of the first issue of the paper has just been received by Col. J. C. Bonner.

The poem, entitled "The New Yankee Rainbow," by W. E. Knight, follows:

Said I to the Rainbow:

"I mean this rainbow

Now borne on the west wind,

Par of the wild ocean

It comes from the Westland

Across the blue wave,

From the land of the free

And the home of the brave?"

Said I to the Rainbow:

"To answer

The Kaiser's devotion

To the Kaiser's devotion

The Rainbow Division

Pray take to notice

My hand and my fellow

The new Yankee Rainbow

Has no streak of yellow."

CHRISTMAS SITTINGS

yet.

ROWLANDSON

CRUIKSHANK

ALKEN

SURTEES

LEACH

DOWNMAN

CHRISTMAS SITTINGS

yet.

ROWLANDSON

CRUIKSHANK

ALKEN

SURTEES

LEACH

DOWNMAN

CHRISTMAS SITTINGS

yet.

ROWLANDSON

CRUIKSHANK

ALKEN

SURTEES

LEACH

DOWNMAN

CHRISTMAS SITTINGS

yet.

ROWLANDSON

CRUIKSHANK

ALKEN

SURTEES

LEACH

DOWNMAN

CHRISTMAS SITTINGS

yet.

ROWLANDSON

CRUIKSHANK

ALKEN

'SUPER' WAR BOARD DRAFTS SPEED PLANS

Wilson Visits Council, Which Aims to Hasten Military Efforts.

BAKER ON SITUATION

Says Germany Is Missing Her Greatest Force for Western Drive.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Germany's successful counter blow against the British lines before Cambrai was attributed by Secretary Baker in today's weekly review of military operations to the missing of the greatest Teutonic force of the war on the western front.

"It would not do for us to minimize its importance," the Secretary warned. "It means that we must speed up our military efforts."

This was the situation that confronted the new "Super" War Council when it met in Mr. Baker's office today for its first extended business session. The council, including the five Cabinet officers composing the Council of National Defense and the heads of the war boards and administrations, was greeted personally by President Wilson. The President remained only a few minutes.

The new plans for speeding up were not disclosed after the meeting. The only suggestion was that there would be increased cooperation among the various Government departments, and among these in turn and the war boards that deal directly with the industries of the country.

In his review of the week Secretary Baker says that the German offensive on the Cambrai front has been successful in winning back less than one-third of the territory captured by the British. The lesson of the German exhibition of strength then is taken up as follows:

"This German parrying thrust, the most powerful and successful blow aimed at the British during the last two and one-half years, coming as it did immediately after the British victory in the same area, serves to emphasize the reviving strength of the Germans in the west."

"We must recognize plainly that the situation in the west is a theater has brought about a very decided change in the strategic possibilities of the military situation in the west. Germany by having one-third of the territory captured by the British, concentrating all available guns, munitions and men in the theatre of operations in the west, has been able to make a full-scale offensive force that has been able to mobilize in France in the past. It would not do for us to minimize its importance."

Secretary Baker said that the German offensive on the Cambrai front has been successful in winning back less than one-third of the territory captured by the British. The lesson of the German exhibition of strength then is taken up as follows:

"This German parrying thrust, the most powerful and successful blow aimed at the British during the last two and one-half years, coming as it did immediately after the British victory in the same area, serves to emphasize the reviving strength of the Germans in the west."